Setting up of Reforms Commission on Administrative Efficiency and Effectivness

*358. SHRI JAGMOHAN: Will the PRIME MINISTER be pleased to state:

(a) whether Government are aware that over the years, administrative efficiency and effectiveness have been declining;

(b) whether the methods of recruitment, training, deployment, promotion, transfer, etc. are inadequate;

(c) what measures of reform, reorganisation and improvement are being contemplated/taken by Government; and

(d) whether Government propose to set up a Reforms Commission/Committee to look into the present infirmities and to suggest remedial measures?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF PERSONNEL, PUBLIC GRIEVANCES AND PENSIONS (SHRIMATI MARGARET ALVA): (a) to (d) Administrative efficiency and effectiveness are matters which receive the attention of the Government on a continuous basis. Towards this end, a number of specialised bodies such as Commissions Committees, Special Review Groups and Task Forces have been set up from time to time to suggest necessary reform measures. Most of the recommendations made by these bodies have been acted upon. The measures for administrative reforms taken by the Government include the following:

— Steps for improving procedures and methods for recruitment, training, deployment, promotion, transfer, etc. of Government employees;

—Steps under the programme of Responsive Administration for simplification of procedures, delegation of authority, enforcement of accountability and prompt and sympathetic redressal of public grievances;

— Strengthening of vigilance machinery and launching of a three-pronged strategy comprising prevantive vigilance, surveillance and detection and deterrent punitive action for combating corrupt practices in public administration. This is, however, an ongoing process.

At present there is no proposal to set up a Reforms Commission/Committee.
